Dear colleague,

We are pleased to announce that Croatia is hosting the 12th European Symposium on Congenital Anomalies. The meeting, organised by the The European Surveillance of Congenital Anomalies (EUROCAT) network, Croatian Society of Human Genetics and the Croatian Society for Rare Diseases, will take place on June 14 in Zagreb, Croatia.

We hope this meeting will continue the success of eleven previous meetings held in different European countries included in the EUROCAT network. The topics of the conference have been selected in order to cover developments in the field of epidemiology, diagnostics, treatment and prevention of congenital anomalies that are of interest both for clinicians and scientists. The special focus will be on discussion and exchange of knowledge and experience on all issues related to rare disorders. This is an excellent opportunity for professionals from the region to take active part in the event sharing the latest scientific and clinical results in a spirit of close cooperation in a pleasant and stimulating work atmosphere.

The program and all other information are available at our website:

We are looking forward to seeing you and hope you will enjoy your stay in Zagreb.

With my best regards,
